Allyship is:

- a lifelong process of building relationships based on trust, consistency, and accountability with marginalized individuals and/or groups of people.
- not self-defined—work and efforts must be recognized by those you are seeking to ally with.
- an opportunity to grow and learn about ourselves, whilst building confidence in others.

How to Live in an Inclusive Environment

- Commit to maintaining a comfortable and safe living environment free from discrimination based on gender identity, gender expression and sexual orientation.
- Respect assigned roommates' and community members and use inclusive language.
- Demonstrate openness and desire to develop their own understanding about gender identity, sexual orientation, and other identities.
- Combat homophobia by confronting overt incidents such as vandalism of someone's pride decorations
